HEINRICH ALBERT (1604 - 1651): 12 LIEDER/ SONGS edited by Mathias Rösel

The German composer Heinrich Albert (1604-1651) wrote vocal music for a wide range of occasions mostly following the Königsberg school of composers. He became popular for his songs for one voice with thorough bass, some of which he developed himself from his polyphonic works. His melodies show Italian traits (realization of affects by rhythmical means), French characteristics (features of the spoken word like stress, long and short syllables, transferred into music) and Polish as well as German dance rhythms. Instrumental arrangements of his songs for the lute can be found in some contemporary Prussian manuscripts, e.g. Berlin 40264 (Renata Gehema) and Rostock xvii-54.

The editor Mathias Rösel gathered some of Albert's songs and wrote out the thorough bass for the lute in Renaissance tuning. In his preface to the present edition he wrote: „Hopefully, singers and lute players alike will enjoy this little collection. I am thrilled by the notion that some of them will possibly rediscover Heinrich Albert as an outstanding song composer.“ With an introduction in German and English.

ALBUM FOR THE LUTE/ALBUM FÜR DIE LAUTE edited by Michael Treder

Manuscript AUS-LHD 243 from the Louise Hanson-Dyer Library of the University of Melbourne, Australia

Music for the Baroque Lute from the second half of the 17th century, composed by Bleystein de Prage, Ennemond Gautier A. Casimir Huelse (Hültz), Pinel, Esaias Reusner and others. The transcription of the music, never been published completely until now, comes with a profound introduction (in German), offering information about the MS itself and the biography of the composers as well as a list of concordances (with incipits). Special attention has been put on A.C. Huelse/Hueltz, who – following E.G. Baron – has been servant and lute teacher of Count Losy (the younger), the identification of the mysterious „Jean Bertolde Bernard Pleystein de Prage“, probably composer of the wonderful „Adieu de la maitresse“ and on neglected aspects of the biography of Esaias Reusner (the younger).

101 pages/French Tablature/Baroque tuning Euro 30.-

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH: SONATA BWV 1001

arranged for Baroque lute by Wilfred Foxe

The Sonata in G Minor BWV 1001 was originally composed for unaccompanied violin and forms the first of three sonatas and three partitas, BWV 1001 – 1006. Bach composed in 1720 whilst he was in the service of Prince Leopold of Anhalt Cöthen. A re-working of the fugue has come down to us in the manuscript of Johann Christian Weyrauch, but the Italianate language of the complete Sonata lends itself to the lute.

French tablature/Baroque tuning

Euro 15.-

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH: partita BWV 1002

arranged for Baroque lute by Wilfred Foxe

The Partita in A minor BWV 1002 was originally composed for unaccompanied violin and it forms the first partita of three sonatas and three partitas, BWV 1001 – 1006. Bach composed it in 1720 whilst he was in the service of Prince Leopold of Anhalt Cöthen. The formal structure of the Partita follows a series of four dance movements each of which is accompanied by a double. Pairings such as these are often found in the compositions of the luthistes but this is not the only possible influence of the lute found in the Partita since many of the doubles exhibit obvious elements of what François Couperin called les choses lutées. JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH: Sonata a minor BWV 1003

arranged for Baroque lute by Wilfred Foxe

This sonata was originally composed in 1720 for unaccompanied violin, whilst J.S.Bach was in the service of Prince Leopold of Anhalt Cöthen.

French tablature/Baroque tuning

Euro 15.-

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH: PARTITA D MINOR BWV 1004

arranged for Baroque Lute by Wilfred Foxe

The Partita BWV1004 has long been a favourite with players of plucked string instruments and the Ciacone, in particular, has earned a celebrity virtually unparalleled in any era of music making. The present publication contains a full description of the method used in making the arrangement, together with relevant musical examples, and this is presented as an appendix to the complete partita arranged for 13-course baroque lute.

JOHANN SEBASTIAN BACH : 4 SUITES FOR LUTE

edited by Gusta Goldschmidt.

This edition contains 4 violoncello solo suites (BWV 1007, 1008, 1009, 1010), arranged for lute . These suites are especially charming on the lute and are not difficult to play. Preface in both English and German.

French tablature/Baroque tuning.

10 PIECES FROM THE ANNA MAGDALENA BACH NOTEBOOK

arranged for lute by Jonathan Rubin.

The Anna Magdalena Bach book of 1725 contains keyboard music which was intended to instruct and entertain all the young members of the Bach family. Ten of the book's most attractive pieces have been arranged for lute.

French tablature/Baroque tuning .

Euro 10.-

DIETRICH BUXTEHUDE: SUITE BuxWV 236 edited by Wilfred Foxe

The cembalo suite transcribed here is probably Buxtehude's most popular work in the genre and its four movements add here to the Allemande-Courante-Sarabande-Gigue pattern of the classical suite in much the same way as the keyboard works of Froberger or the lute works of Esaias Reusner the younger.

Corpus of Italian Renaissance Lute Music Vol. II

GIULIO CESARE BARBETTA (c 1540 - c 1602): COLLECTED LUTE MUSIC

edited by Gian Luca Lastraioli

Despite the fact that Giulio Cesare Barbetta was one of the most important lutenists of the second half of the Italian Cinquecento, very little is known about his life. Barbetta was certainly born in Padua (the title pages of his publications always refer to him as „Padoano“ or Padovano“) possibly around the year 1540, while 1603 (the year of publication of his last work - Intavolatura di liuto delle canzonette) is the post quem date for his death.

Barbetta's books present all the typical genres of the lute music of the second half of the Italian Cinquecento: preambuli, fantasias, intabulations of Italian madrigals and French chansons, pavanas and paduanas, passemazzi and galliards (sometimes paired in the form of a two piece suite), balletti, moresche, saltarelli, dance pieces for two lutes, arie to be used for singing stanze e versi d'ogni sorte („strophes and verses of every kind“), and canzonette.

All the lute books published by Barbetta were printed in Italian tablature. For the present edition all the pieces have been transcribed into French tablature. All the original right hand fingering marks have been left unaltered in the transcriptions, as they represent a precious indication for today's performers about phrasing. The present edition contains 130 solo pieces for seven course lute and four duet pieces.

Text in English. 4 lute books in one volume.

French tablature/Renaissance tuning/285 pages/hard cover Euro 80.-

Corpus of Italian Renaissance Lute Music Vol. IV

PIETRO PAOLO BORRONO: COLLECTED WORKS FOR LUTE

edited by Gian Luca Lastraioli

The present edition contains all the music that, to the present day, can be safely ascribed to the Italian lutenist and composer Pietro Paolo Borrono. Borrono was born in Milan c. 1490. His musical reputation must have been very high in the eyes of his contemporaries. All of his pieces were published in books where they appeared side by side to those composed by his illustrious fellow citizen Francesco da Milano. That such a “star” as Francesco would have no objection in associating his own name (and pieces) to Borrono's certainly means that the “divino Francesco” highly valued the music composed by the “soldier” Pietro Paolo. The solid publishing partnership Francesco/Pietro Paolo was therefore to stand out in the panorama of the lute music printed in Italy during the third and fourth decades of the Cinquecento, with Francesco being by far the most exquisite composer of polyphonic works, and with Borrono giving his best in the field of dance music.

ERNST GOTTLIEB BARON: COLLECTED WORKS (complete edition, hard bound)

edited by Jan W.J. Burgers

The music of Ernst Gottlieb Baron (1696–1760), lutenist to King Frederick the Great of Prussia, has until now not been given the attention it deserves. In Germany during his lifetime Baron was regarded as one of the most outstanding virtuosos of the lute, and leading critics ranked him among the best composers of the nation. The modern neglect he has suffered was caused perhaps by the fact that most of his music seems to have been lost, and that the works, which have survived, are probably his less demanding ones, aimed at the amateur players. It is clear, however, that these tuneful and relatively easy pieces should be a welcome addition to the repertory of today's lutenist, amateur as well as professional. Moreover, Baron's ensemble works, mostly lute trios, are more ambitious than his lute solos and surely deserve more attention than is the case at present. It is hoped that these books, in which all of the surviving works of this lute-nist have been collected, will help to revive the interest in Baron's art.

The complete edition includes

- introduction dealing with Baron's life, works and musical style
- full critical commentary
- transcription into staff notation
- Tablature and parts for Solo lute works, duets, Ensemble works
- list of sources and bibliography
- Baron's book „...Untersuchung des Instruments der Lauten..“ Nürnberg 1727 on additional CD ROM, in full color

JOAN AMBROSIO DALZA: WORKS FOR LUTE edited by Gian Luca Lastraioli

Dalza's Intabolatura de Lauto is the only „first hand“ source of his music that has survived to the present day: a few other versions of Dalza's pieces can be found in other printed and manuscript sources of lute music of the 16th Century, but all of them are to be considered as „copies“ directly descending from the 1508 Petrucci edition. Therefore, unless in the future new music by Dalza is rediscovered, the present edition contains all the known music than can be safely ascribed to this Italian lutenist. Dalza's Intabolatura is one of the most interesting and precious sources of Italian lute music of the first quarter of the Cinquecento.

THE DANZIG LUTE BOOK edited by Magdalne Tomsinska

The DANZIG LUTE BOOK (Danzig [Gdańsk] tablature 4022) is a collection of early seventeenth century lute music of Gdańsk provenance, now kept in Berlin. This tablature was lost during the Second World War. Unexpectedly, after the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 and the resulting political changes, this manuscript was revealed to be in the collection of the Staatsbibliothek Preussischer Kulturbesitz in East Berlin. It turned out that during the war part of the Gdańsk library collection was taken to Moscow, and from there the whole collection was transferred to the Berlin Staatsbibliothek Preussischer Kulturbesitz in the 1950 s.

The TREE facsimile edition of the Danzig Lute Book also contains an introduction and an inventory with concordances by Polish-Canadian lutenist Magdalena Tomsinińska.

The manuscript from ca. 1620 contains 222 pieces, mainly dances (Polish, French, English, German, Italian, Netherlands, Hungarian and Ruthenian) and arrangements of popular songs.

DEBUSSY/SATIE : 4 TRANSCRIPTIONS FOR LUTE

edited by Jonathan Rubin

CLAUDE DEBUSSY (1862 - 1918) : La fille aux cheveux de lin

ERIK SATIE (1866 - 1925): 1re Gnosssienne, Gymnopedie 1 + 3.

This edition presents something of novelty for the adventurous lutenist: transcriptions of four famous piano works of the 20th century. Pieces of total serenity and beauty, they may be played with complete conviction on the lute for entertainment, delight and diversion. The Debussy and 1re Gymnopedie have been arranged for the 10-course or 13-course lute or archlute in g', and the others for 13-course lute.

EASY PIECES FOR TWO LUTES (or a melody instrument and lute)

edited by Anne Bailes

This collection of 21 pieces for two Renaissance lutes or a melody instrument and lute represents an attempt to create teaching material which is easy to play and offers the possibility of playing with others. The treble part is intended for beginners, the accompaniment for those with greater dexterity. A separate insert, with the treble part in mensural notation, has been provided to facilitate performance with a melody instrument in place of the "treble" lute.

FANTASIAS & RECERCARS FOR RENAISSANCE LUTE Vol. I

44 lute solos, collected, transcribed and edited by John H. Robinson

50 or so books of Renaissance lute music published in the sixteenth century were notated in German lute tablature. Of these, nine include fantasias and recercars for solo lute. All thirty six of these are transcribed into French tablature in this edition. An appendix of eight more associated with one of the publishers brings the total to 44 in all. All the music in this edition is for solo lute in Renaissance vieil ton tuning (6 courses tuned G c f a d' g', assuming a lute in G pitch, only one piece has an added 7th course, tuned to F).

FANTASIAS & RECERCARS FOR RENAISSANCE LUTE Vol. II

collected, transcribed and edited by John H. Robinson

This edition is the second in a series of fantasias and recercars transcribed into French tablature from sources in German lute tablature. The present volume includes all fifty five of the lute solos titled fantasia or recercar found in manuscripts wholly or partly notated in German tablature dated between c.1520 and c.1580. The music is ordered chronologically by source, which shows the development from simpler free form recercars into the more complex polyphonic fantasia.

The music in the manuscript sources used for this edition is all notated in German tablature but is transcribed into French tablature here, which is more accessible to lutenists of the twenty first century.

FANTASIAS & RECERCARS FOR RENAISSANCE LUTE Vol. III

collected, transcribed and edited by John H. Robinson

This edition is the third in a series of fantasias and recercars transcribed into French tablature from sources in German lute tablature. The present volume includes all of the fantasias and recercars (92 lute solos) in manuscripts notated in German tablature dated between c.1580 and c.1620, including all of the genre from three of the largest German manuscripts, the so-called Dlugoraj, Wurstisen and Donaueschingen lute books.

The music includes many excellent examples of the genres and some are suitable for beginners, and many are for lutenists of intermediate ability. The contents range from recercars from earlier in the 16th-c to more complex imitative fantasias by masters of the high renaissance.

JOHANNES FRESNEAU: COMPLETE WORKS FOR LUTE & GUITAR

edited by Jan Burgers

The lutenist Fresneau or Dufresneau, the composer of a significant body of music, has long remained an enigma, because absolutely nothing was known about his person. All we had were his works, which are mainly transmitted in two manuscript sources: A-ETgoëssI and PL-Kj40626. Recent research has found out that the French lutenist Johannes Fresneau was in 1644 living in the Dutch town of Leiden, where he died in 1670. Moreover, it turns out that the greater part of PL-Kj40626 is an autograph manuscript, written by Fresneau 1658-c.1660, presumably on behalf of a pupil. The present edition contains all known works by Fresneau: 39 high-quality pieces in the well known French style brisé. Most are for eleven-course lute, five are for guitar.

The GOESS LUTE AND VIOL MANUSCRIPTS of Schloss Ebenthal

In 1979 the American scholar, Douglas Alton Smith, visited the GOESS family seat, Schloss Ebenthal, near Klagenfurt in the southern Austrian province of Carinthia expecting to find a single lute book; eventually no fewer than 13 tablature manuscripts from the 17th and 18th century were discovered on the shelves. They had apparently all belonged to the family from their compilation, and thus constitute a unique and priceless record of several generations of musical activity in a distinguished Austrian noble household. Douglas Smith arranged the photographing of the manuscripts by Albert Reyerman and others and reported the discovery in an article discussing the manuscripts and their family background (EARLY MUSIC, October 1982, pp.462-7).

The three viol tablatures were catalogued from these films by Gordon Dodd in England, and in 1986 Albert Reyerman visited Schloss Ebenthal again, this time together with Tim Crawford, in order to carry out a more detailed examination of the manuscripts. Albert Reyerman of TREE EDITION was allowed to take all manuscripts home to Munich in Germany, where he had the equipment to make full size reproductions of every single page of the manuscripts, in total nearly 1000 pages of outstanding music.

THE LUTEBOOK OF WOLFF CHRISTIAN VON HARLING, Jena, c 1618

with introduction and concordances by Joachim Lüdtke

Wolff Christian von Harling was a nobleman from a family in Lower Saxony, Germany. He entered the protestant convent of St. Michael's in Lüneburg at an early age and lived there until his death during an epidemic in 1639. His lute book, the work of several hands, has been written during his years at the Jena university where von Harling studied from on 1618.

This manuscript contains attractive music: its repertoire consists mainly of dances of French provenance, some of them clearly based on the four-voice versions of Michael Praetorius' Terpsichore. English music - sometimes with German titles - features with several popular pieces. Germany contributes a number of song settings, a group of Lutheran chorales and other pieces.

With the book comes a CD ROM showing photographic impressions of the elaborated gables of the brick houses in the city of Lüneburg, where von Harling once lived.

edited by Sigrid Wirth & John H. Robinson

A revised and extended edition of John Robinson's edition of the music of Gregory Howet published in 1998. In the 20 years since the first edition many additional sources of the music have come to light and a great deal more biographical information is now known about the two composers represented. All known sources of the 14 lute solos ascribed to Gregorius Huwet as well as the 6 ascribed to Thobias Kühne. Huwet's music includes parodies of known lute solos by John Dowland, Francesco da Milano and John Johnson and so versions of the originals by these composers are also included, together with additional related music as an appendix amounting to 92 pages of tablature for renaissance lute. The alternative settings include easier versions for beginners as well as elaborate lute solos for the advanced player.

JOHN JOHNSON (1540 - 1594): COLLECTED LUTE MUSIC COMPLETE EDITION, edited by Jan W. J. Burgers

Here at last is the definitive edition of John Johnson, the earliest great Elizabethan lute composer and the greatest of all lute duet composers. Dr. Burgers edition presents for the first time all 49 of John Johnson's solo lute pieces and 25 duets, including many pieces that are probably by Johnson but unattributed in the manuscript sources. It includes substantial studies of Johnson's life, works, and musical style as well as commentary and concordance list for each piece. A significant new contribution to the lute world.

DAVID KELLNER (1670 - 1747): XVI AUERLESENE LAUTENSTÜCKE , Hamburg 1747

Kellner is well known für his treatise Treulichher Unterricht im General- Bass, published in Hamburg 1732. His book with the XVI Selected Lute Pieces from 1747 is one of the last lute books to be published. The pieces on the 48 pages in this book are in his own style, very charming and not too difficult to play.

The KLAGENFURT LUTE BOOK Kla/ 5/37
Introduction & concordances by Hubert Hoffmann

This is a facsimile of a two-part manuscript that provides 75 pieces for Baroque Lute (many of which are unique specimens, so far unpublished!) It is a typical collection of the 18th century literature for the noble luteplayers at the environment of the imperial court in Vienna after 1700. It also contains some instructive technical exercises.

Its present location, the Carinthian State Archives in Klagenfurt, Austria, put these manuscripts, assembled by a professional copyist, into the near of the extensive tablature stock of the noble family Goëss at Castle Ebenthal near Klagenfurt. It completes their extensive collection of lute music stylistically in the most positive way and thus provides a welcome addition to the repertoire, full of attractive compositions from Hinterleitner over Losy and Biechteler across to the rich repertoire of the Goëss manuscripts fundus.

For the „Klagenfurt Lutebook“ A-Kla 5/37 Hubert Hoffmann from Vienna created an introduction and description of the manuscript and put together the previously known concordances to other print and manuscripts from the Habsburg managed cultural area.

THE LEIPZIG BAROQUE LUTE BOOK, c 1680

Facsimile of Leipzig II.6.24

This magnificent lute book from the Leipzig Music Library comprises 347 lute pieces on 474 pages (!) and is here published for the first time.

From the point of music this is one of the most beautiful collections of Lute pieces I have ever seen. It is my absolute favorite! For better legibility the pages have been enlarged somewhat; for convenience the facsimile edition has been divided into two handsome volumes.

Pieces by Mercure, DuFaut, Strobel, Pinel, Gautier, Dubut, Gumprecht, Gallot, and many anonymous, extremely beautiful pieces, being NOT difficult to play!

SELECTED PIECES from the Leipzig Baroque Lute Book

The Leipzig Book has been published by TREE in 2006. The present edition is a selection for all those players not willing to play through the entire book for to find their favourite pieces. We have made a choice for them and have selected 47 pieces, grouped them according to key and tempo, thus forming 9 suites out of the most beautiful pieces to be found in this source.

WILLIAM LAWES (1602 - 1645): THREE PIECES FOR 2 LUTES

edited by Anthony Bailes & Anne van Royen

These three pieces by William Lawes, perhaps the most beautiful lute duets ever written, are being published in a special edition comprising a facsimile of the Lawes autograph (GB-Oxford, Bodleian Library, Mus.Sch.b.2, page 86) for lutes tuned f' d' h g d A G F E C and a second version, edited by Anthony Bailes and Anne van Royen, for two 10-course instruments in Renaissance tuning.

Also included is a CD recording of the suite performed by Anthony Bailes and Anne van Royen which was first released in 1975 on „Musik für zwei Lauten“ (Toccata Records) French tablature/Renaissance tuning & Audio CD Euro 15.-

HENRY LAWES: DIALOGUE ON A KISSE edited by Peter Croton

Dialogue on a Kisse, by Henry Lawes (1595 – 1662), is a Duet for two voices, Soprano and Tenor and Continuo. It is well-suited for accompaniment on the 7-course renaissance lute, and this edition aims to help the lutenist choose appropriate harmonies, texture and voice-leading. It is our hope that the present edition will give many lutenists access to this delightful song, and perhaps even encourage them to explore the challenging yet rewarding art of improvised thorough-bass accompaniment in the vast repertoire of 17th and 18th century music. Newly set score and additional facsimile.

METHOD FOR THE BAROQUE LUTE by Toyohiko Satoh

An authoritative baroque lute tutor has long been awaited. After 15 years teaching in higher music education, the author has produced a work based on baroque lute technique reconstructed from historical sources. The book contains methodically and progressively graded exercises in playing technique as well as historical information and guidance on ornamentation and interpretation compiled from the literature of the 17th and 18th century. Drawing on his wide concert experience Toyohiko Satoh presents music ranging from that of the best baroque lute composers to complete suites by Losy, Weiss and Bach. French tablature.

Music for Vihuela or Lute

LUYS MILAN: EL MAESTRO

Introduction by Hopkinson Smith / with additional CD ROM
EL MAESTRO is the only vihuela book to claim a pedagogical intent. Milan states that the solo works in the collection are increasingly challenging as the book progresses. For modern vihuelistas or lutenists interested in delving further into the world of Luys Milan, there is nothing better than to play his music and read his performing instructions.
With the book comes an additional CD ROM, on which you will find the original book scanned in high resolution and full color. The CD ROM is fully indexed, so that you can find any piece by a single mouseclick. Also you are able to view those tablature letters printed in RED ink, which in the songs represent the vocal line for the singer.
The book is written in Spanish tablature, which is easy to understand for all those players accustomed to French Tablature.

SILVIUS LEOPOLD WEISS (1686 - 1750) : Sonata L'INFIDELE

edited by Jonathan Rubin

S.L.Weiss's Sonata in intitled L'INFIDELE is presented here in a beautifully handwritten version with numerous fingering suggestions. The foreword contains a comparison between the most interesting differencies between the British Museum version (upon which this edition is based) and the Dresden Ms. version. In addition, a complete MUSETTE from the Dresden Ms. is included as a variant.

SILVIUS LEOPOLD WEISS: 5 DUO SUITES FOR FLUTE AND LUTE

edited by Michel Cardin

The current rediscovery of Weiss's chamber music is both surprising and amazing the musical world of the present. The chamber works seem to reveal the composer's genius with even more aplomb than his works for lute solo, owing to their easier comparison to the chamber music of such composers as Bach, Haendel and Telemann. Weiss's solo works, albeit more and more admired –and with good reason-, tend to disclose little of their intrinsic worth due to of a lack of grounds for comparison, notwithstanding their contemporaneousness to Bach's solo lute works. Moreover, there are three additional surprises. Firstly, the second Concert of the London Manuscript is composed not by Silvius Leopold but by Sigismund Weiss (c.1695-1737), the younger brother of Silvius. Secondly, all the flute parts in the manuscript have been reconstructed, since the originals have disappeared.

The WITTGENSTEIN LUTE BOOK edited by Mathias Roesel.

This previously unknown manuscript from the noble household of the German family Sayn-Wittgenstein-Hohenstein is published here for the first time.

The text-section of the book: - Principia der Laute (Principles of the lute) – contains contemporary explanations on how to perform graces. The music-section contains 102 pieces for the eleven-course baroque lute, dating until 1720. Named composers are Ebner, Kühnel, Losy and Meusel, besides many anonymous pieces.

Concordances and incipits were compiled by Markus Lutz and Peter Steur. The moderate level of difficulty makes it a treasure trove for lovers of the baroque lute.

Corpus of Italian Renaissance Lute Music Vol. V

GIOVANNI ZAMBONI: LIBRO D'INTAVOLATURA DI LEUTO, Lucca 1718

transcribed and edited by Gian Luca Lastraioli

The style of Zamboni's twelve sonatas is highly elegant and all of his pieces show an accurate level of idiomatic writing for the instrument. For this reason they represent a precious, virtually unique, example of lute music of the Italian Settecento. Finally, not only can Zamboni's sonatas enrich the solo repertoire of today's lutenist, but they also represent an excellent source of inspiration for a better understanding of the art of basso continuo realization on the archlute as it was practiced in Italy during the baroque period.

The edition contains the facsimile in italian tablature and a complete transcription into the french system.
